THE BEAUTIFUL JUNE BRIDES

Society Deeply Interested in Weddings Soon to Be.

Song for June.

Into my open window blows
The spicy fragrance of the rose—
A breath that hints of June, and tells
Of dew and moonlight in the dells,
Where dreaming flowers and birds await
The opening of summer's fate.

And how and then, from fields afar,
Sweet as the singing of a star,
A strain of liquid melody
Drifts softly down the dusk to me—
The tender music of a tune
That stirs the happy heart of June.

So here I love to linger long,
Drinking the perfume and the song;
Haunted by visions ever fair
And voices in the quiet air;
Until the shadows have withdrawn
And June comes blushing with the dawn.
—Frank Dempster Sherman in the June Munsey's.

West Pointers Entertained.

Miss Rebecca Dainfield Gordon and Miss Nellie H. Gordon will entertain a number of their friends, among the West Point cadets, at a house party to be given from June 15th for a week, in the home of their parents, Colonel and Mrs. John W. Gordon, of No. 835 West Franklin Street.

Miss Nellie Gordon and Mrs. Gordon spent a delightful month at West Point last year, where Miss Nellie attended the finals. The West Pointers who are included in the invitation to what will be one of the most elegant and delightful affairs of its kind ever given in Richmond are several of them, friends who were special factors in the celebration of a June gone by, which Miss Gordon recalls so pleasantly.

Among those to be guests at the house party will be: Cadets Clifford C. Early, of Lynchburg, Va.; Charles S. Harris, Jr., of Texas; Augustine W. Robins, of Richmond; William L. Martin, Jr., of Alabama; William C. McChord, Jr., of Kentucky; George C. Fishburne, of Baltimore; Miss Brownell, of Maryland; Miss Wilkins, of Washington, D. C.; and Miss Sue Clark, of North Carolina.

Fisher—Richmond.

A fashionable wedding celebration at which Richmond society will be largely represented will take place at 9 o'clock on the evening of June 11th, in the Presbyterian Church of Milton, N. C., when Miss Anne Hinton Richmond, daughter of the late Nathaniel Richmond, of Milton, will be married to Mr. Edward C. Fisher, son of the late Charles Fisher, of Richmond, grandson of the late Dr. Edward C. Fisher, of Staunton, Va., and of the late Dr. James P. Jervoy, of Charleston, S. C.

The Rev. Dr. E. H. Harding will perform the marriage ceremony. Miss Lucy Mayfield Richmond, sister of the bride, will attend her as maid of honor, and the eight bridesmaids will be: Miss Priscilla Harding Dodson, of Greensboro; Miss Sally Salzman, of Redville; Miss Kate Watkins Lewis, of Henderson; and Miss Emily Watkins, of Milton, N. C.; Miss Mary Dodson Richmond, of Danville, Va.; Miss Emma Carrington Fisher and Miss Helen Fisher, of Richmond; Miss Sue Lewis Richmond, of Milton, N. C.

The best man will be Mr. James A. Fisher, of this city, and the groomsmen,

Mr. Charles Page Fisher, Mr. Cary S. Fisher, of Richmond; Mr. Darrell Jervoy, of Powhatan county; Mr. W. B. Strother, of Chester, Va.; Mr. M. F. Berkeley and Mr. Hugh Morrison, of Richmond; Mr. Charles D. Richmond, of Norfolk, Va.; and Mr. John L. Richmond, of Durham, N. C.

A reception in the home of the bride will follow the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will take a Northern trip, and, after July 1st, will make their home at No. 110 South Fifth Street. The groom and his party will leave early this week for Milton. The prominence of the contracting parties and their wide connection invest their nuptials with an unusual degree of interest.

Gaw—Williams.

An interesting wedding of Wednesday evening next, June 11th, will take place in Leigh Street Baptist Church at 7 o'clock, when Miss Emma Wirt Williams, the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Williams, of Floyd Avenue, will be married to the Rev. Benjamin Donald Gaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Gaw, of Augusta county, and pastor of the East End Baptist Church.

The father of the bride, the Rev. G. F. Williams, will perform the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Ashby Jones, pastor of Leigh Street Church.

The list of attendants will include Miss Bertha Bell Williams, maid of honor; the bridesmaids, Miss Harriet Miller, of New York; Miss Mary Woodfin, of Waynesboro; Miss Nannie Gavey, of Augusta; Miss Georgia Laws, of Front Royal; Misses Katherine Fleet and Virginia Jones, of Richmond; Professor Carter Ashton Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, North Carolina; best man, and the groomsmen—Mr. R. F. Plippen, of Lynchburg; Dr. W. A. Wallace, of Staunton; the Rev. J. B. Webster, of South Dakota; the Rev. S. H. Templeman, of Spotsylvania county; Mr. W. E. Harvey, and Mr. C. G. Taylor.

A Charming Hostess.

Miss Harriet Garrett was the charming hostess of an entertainment given by her to a few of her friends at her home,

No. 403 East Main Street, Friday evening. The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms and candelabra. The color scheme being pink, the flowers corresponded with that hue.

Dancing and games interspersed with dainty refreshments added to the enjoyment of guests. Music from a string band inspired the dancers until a late hour, and the evening was one of the pleasantest of the week.

Miss Field's Wedding Date.

Miss Florence Field, second daughter of Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, will be married to Mr. Thomas Lindsey, of Boston, July first, in the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Page, at York Harbor, Maine.

Miss Roberts's School.

The closing exercises of Miss Roberts's school took place June 6th, after a most successful school year.

Reuben J. Martin was awarded the first honor, and the following received the blue ribbon certificate of first merit: Marguerite J. Forge, Willie A. Green, Charles C. Johnson, Jr., Edith Du Val Hudgins, Wave Henning, Charles Berkeley Cooke, Jr., Evan R. Chesterman, Jr., and Blanche M. Green.

Second honors were bestowed upon Ella Barbour McCarthy, Elizabeth Knox, Katherine Hudgins, Emily Belle Tiller, Virginia Lee Cottrell, Malvin Watkins, Elizabeth Tompkins, Marie Josephine Cooke, Charles H. West, Jr., George Wythe Bott, Jr., Grace Snead Gilliam and Erdmann Miller.

Habel—Davis.

The wedding of Miss Louise Davis, daughter of Mr. George B. Davis, to the Samuel Tilden Habel, of Bedford City, will take place in the home of the bride, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. George McDaniel, of First Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride will have as her matron of honor Mrs. R. C. Cooley, her sister, and will be also attended by four of her nieces, Little Misses Mildred and Mabel Cooley, May and Ruth Davis, as flower girls.

The Rev. T. B. Wallington, of this city, will be the best man; Mr. E. B. Dickinson, of Cumberland, Md.; Mr. O. L. Bonen, Mr. Hudgins, Mr. L. Howard Jenkins, Mr. Carroll D. Hagan and Mr. C. C. Pearson, all of Richmond, and Mr. Hagan, of Northampton, will be the groomsmen. The bride and groom will make their home at Onancock, Va.

Miss Bessie Clay Hagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hagan, will be married to the Rev. John Walter Cammack, son of Mrs. M. J. Cammack, Wednesday, June 14th, in the First Baptist Church, at 6:30 P. M., the Rev. Dr. George W. McDaniel officiating.

Mr. Shepherd Webb will be at the organ. Miss Louise Walthall, of Richmond, will be Miss Hagan's maid of honor; Miss Josephine Chamberlain, of Richmond, and Miss Josephine Spaulding, of Essex county, will attend her as flower girls.

Mr. John Hancock, of Charlottesville, Va., will be best man; Mr. E. B. Dickinson, of Cumberland, Md.; Mr. O. L. Bonen, Mr. Hudgins, Mr. L. Howard Jenkins, Mr. Carroll D. Hagan and Mr. C. C. Pearson, all of Richmond, and Mr. Hagan, of Northampton, will be the groomsmen. The bride and groom will make their home at Onancock, Va.

Miss Hagan is an M. A. and a graduate in music of the Woman's College. Mr. Cammack has taken the master of arts degree at Richmond College, is a master of theology from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, of Louisville, Ky., and a Ph. D. of the University of Virginia.

Linen Shower.

A pleasant feature connected with Miss Hagan's marriage was an ante-nuptial linen shower given in her honor by her maid of honor, Miss Louise Walthall.

The parlors and dining room of the Walthall home were beautifully decorated in magnolia leaves, white and pink, and the color scheme throughout being in white and gold.

A large yellow parasol was suspended in the archway between the parlors as a receptacle for the dainty linen gifts. Miss Hagan just beneath it, and a half-dozen ribbons were pulled, and the fleecy white presents fell in a shower all about her. Forty-three gifts were received, and the occasion was exceedingly happy and graceful.

Whitfield—Lyne.

A beautiful home wedding took place at the home of the bride's aunt, No. 515 East Main Street, at 10 o'clock, at half-past 1 o'clock, when Mr. John T. Whitfield and Miss George Lyne were married by the Rev. R. M. Chandler.

The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms and ferns. The maid of honor was Miss Jennie Lewis, of Baltimore, who came in with Mr. Walter Whitfield; Miss Marie Manning, of Henderson, N. C., with Mr. James Howie; Miss Alice Whitfield, with Mr. Roy Lyne; Miss Arline Lewis, of Henderson, N. C., with Mr. Edward Williams, were the other attendants. The couple received many handsome presents. After a trip of ten days they will be at home to their friends at No. 1012 West Main Street.

Wagstaff Cowles.

Invitations have been received in Richmond from Mrs. Harriet Cowles, of Williamsburg, Va., for the marriage of her daughter, Harriet, to Mr. Roscoe Marvin Wagstaff, the ceremony to take place in St. John's Church, Hampton, Va., Wednesday afternoon, June 21st, at 4 o'clock.

The bride will have Miss Ida Henley, of Williamsburg, as maid of honor. Mr. H. M. Wagstaff will be best man, and the groomsmen will be Messrs. Lawrence Gatewood, D. H. Dimm, Oscar Lane, Edward Cowles, William E. Cowles, Park Register and Gustavus Goddin. Mr. Dudley R. Cowles, of New York, will give his sister away.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss May Thomas and Mr. Charles Reade Sayre has been announced in society circles of this city, the announcement having been made a few days ago at an informal entertainment given at Buckroe Beach. The marriage will take place in the early fall in the city of Baltimore, at the residence of her brother, Mr. George C. Thomas, a prominent man of the Monumental City.

Miss Thomas is a native of Baltimore, but has spent the past several years in this city, where she has met with a circle of friends and is a most popular and attractive member of the Peninsula society.

Mr. Sayre is a member of the well known firm of Sayre Brothers, located at Phoenix. He is a descendant of a distinguished family of Pennsylvania, and is very well known in the business world.

Annual Commencement.

The annual commencement exercises of the Richmond Conservatory of Music will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Monday and Tuesday evenings, June 12th and 13th, at 8:30 o'clock. Especially attractive programs have been arranged for each evening, to be participated in by pupils of the piano, vocal and expression departments.

Much wholesome rivalry has existed in the school in the efforts of pupils to carry off the medals in the various departments. Two medals were offered in the piano department. The first honor, carrying with it a scholarship for next session, was awarded to Miss Lillian Omohundro. The second honor was awarded Miss Esther Weinstein. In the vocal department only one medal was offered, which also carries a scholarship for next session. This honor was awarded to Mr. Woodruff T. Turk. In the expression department, the first honor for general improvement during the session was awarded to Miss Annie McIntosh. In this department two additional medals were contested for in the Conservatory hall last Thursday evening. Two contests were held, one by advanced pupils and one by juveniles. The judges, Rev. William E. Evans, Father Charles Harrington and Rose C. Tupman, awarded the first medal to Miss Eleanor Steinbrecher, and the second to Miss Elizabeth Kelly. A graduate's diploma will be given Miss Annie Mae Rhodes, of Cartersville, Va., in the piano department.

These medals and the diploma will be presented at the close of Tuesday evening's programme, by Rev. William J. Young, D. D.

During the session now closing, no relaxations have been made for the recitals, but in order to avoid violation of the ordinance in reference to over-

Beautiful Conceptions in

..Mid-Summer Millinery..

WE turn to Paris to study styles. Yes. But we adopt these styles, and, with their inspiration, recreate them into original conceptions, embodying features to meet individual requirements—thus evolve the Kaufmann Hats that are exclusive, individual in tone, and which appeal most impressively to the discerning taste of Richmond's best dressed women.

From out the bewildering galaxy of these beautiful mid-summer creations we pluck this quartette:

A deliberate copy of a French model—a diaphanous thing of peroxaline braid, with collar of valenciennes lace; graceful with its sweep of white French plumes, $12.50.

An exclusive creation is this plateau of silvery peroxaline, with its most effective combination of Tuscan braid and maline, a profusion of foliage and flowers in the most delicate tints completes this typical mid-summer mode, $9.00.

A jaunty Polo, of white milan, with trimming of white velvet, louisiane ribbon and the highly favored white wings, deftly united, $6.50.

Another Polo, (for the Polos have established themselves in high favor) this one of white hair braid and maline, coquettishly trimmed with fancy quills and pastel roses, $10.

But the beauty of these airy, fairy summer fancies is quite beyond the telling. This quartette was picked at random. There are dozens of others, indeed the full orchestra of mid-summer modes is now on view.

Girls' White Dresses

There is nothing quite so pretty and so appropriate for little folks as white and there never was a season when such dainty White Dresses cost so little as now and here:

White Muslin Dresses, $5.00.—Cluster of tiny tucks form a panel down the front, edged with lace, neck and sleeves, finished with hemsutched ruffle.

Sheer Muslin Dresses, $1.25.—Round yoke of tiny tucks, finished with deep ruffle, inset and edged with Valenciennes; neck and sleeves trimmed with Val. lace.

Serviceable Dresses of Lawn, $1.00.—Front trimmed with embroidery in section, box pleats and clusters of wee tucks, pearl buttons on the box plaits; full skirt with deep hem.

White Dresses at $3.50.—Of Persian lawn, with tucks down center front and clusters of tiny tucking on either side, outlined by wide ruff of embroidery; full skirt with deep hem of embroidery, headed with tiny tucks.

Very Dainty Nainsook Dress at $7.50.—With deep pointed bertha, trimmed and edged with Valenciennes, round yoke, inset with Val. ribbon rosettes at yoke and cuffs, wide sash about the waist. Full skirt, elaborated with Val. inserting and edging; mounted on pink silk sham.

crowding public halls, the management has found it necessary to issue invitations to the commencement exercises.

Closing Class Exercises.

A large and cultured audience greeted the pupils of Mrs. Jennie Yeomans at the Conservatory of Music, No. 565 East Grace Street, when the junior and senior classes held a contest for two gold medals. The judges were Rev. Dr. Evans, Father Harrington and Mr. Rog Tupman. Mr. Roscoe Nelson, who was to have been one of the judges, was unexpectedly called from the city. After a close and brilliant contest, the judges unanimously decided in favor of Miss Elizabeth Kelly, of the junior class, and Miss Eleanor Steinbrecher, of the senior class. The following programme was rendered:

Junior Class—"One Legged Goose," Elizabeth Kelly; "Seen Things at Night," Cornelia Pollock; "Old Ace," Mary Walsh; "Asleep at the Switch," Christine Myers; "Miss Edith Helps Things Along," Marie Cummins; "Little Tim's Tobacco," Alfred Kirsh; "Slouch Chief's Daughter," Esther Weinstein.

Senior Class—"Story of Ben Hur," Eleanor Steinbrecher; "Cursus Socraticus," Florence Jacobs; "When the Moon Rose," Nannie Thompson; "Joshua of 1776," Emma Thompson; "Sweet Girl Graduate," Mildred Brent; "Society Belle," Annie McIntosh; "One Legged Goose," Miss Becken; "Watchin' the Stars," Francis Robinson.

Miss Eleanor Steinbrecher, the winner of the ladies' gold medal, gave the difficult reading of the "Story of Ben Hur," a cutting by Byron King, of Pittsburg. It gives the entire story of Lew Wallace's popular novel of that name, including the very difficult chariot race. Miss Steinbrecher's voice is rich and resonant, and with her clear interpretation of it, one could easily imagine himself seated in the arena and feel the enthusiasm as Ben Hur swept around the goal and won the race.

Little Miss Elizabeth Kelly, the winner of the juvenile medal, gave the amusing story, "The One Legged Goose," by Hopkinson Smith, and it is remarkable that one so young could have given negro dialect so perfectly.

Miss Annie McIntosh, in her excellent rendition of "The Society Belle," was a close second to the first honor, while Misses Florence Jacobs, Mildred Brent and Nannie Thompson deserve special mention.

Dance and Lawn Party.

At the dance and lawn party to be given by Mrs. William L. Royall Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Anne Keth Royall, Miss Harriet Jenkins, Lucy Ford and Miss Lila Antrim, of Charlottesville, the marches and dances will be led by Meredith Montague, Bernard Jones and George Taylor.

A band of colored musicians will call the figures and supper will be served on the lawn, which will be lighted with Japanese lanterns. Music on the lawn will add to the beauty of the scene, and the entertainment will be one of the most attractive of the week in every way.

Those present will be Misses Helen Adams, Charlotte Bemis, Elsie Harrison, Mary Davis, Rosalie Valentine, Cary Valentine, Mary Parry Virginia Tyler, Sue McQuire, Grace Perkins, Lucy Ford, Ellen, Mary Saunders, Katherine Glenn, Elizabeth Wheat, Dorothy Chris-
